

JANUARY 2007

CHLOE 22" PARTY DOLL

I'm sorry you had a hard time with Chloe's shrug. I was trying to keep things simple (!?) by making it all in one piece. I cut a rectangle of fabric as long as Chloe's outspread arms (across the shoulders) and as wide as the length of one arm.

The only two seams are along one long side. They become the shoulder seams. I folded the short sides up to the long sides and sewed them together, just leaving enough space of an opening at the end of each seam to tuck her hands through.

Angela Wade
assar1@cox.net